A BAD DEATH.

Miss Bernice Davis of Burleson Faculty, Died Yesterday Morning. At 7:30 yesterday morning Miss Bernice Davis passed peacefully away at the home of Prof. Gibson, after a long attack of typhoid fever. Thursday morning her symptoms seemed so much better that her physicians were encouraged, but a hemorrhage set in and death ensued. Her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Davis, of Denick, Mo., came a week ago to be with her daughter, and the physician, the family physician, also, came to attend to her. Miss Davis was twenty-one years old, and leaves her mother, a sister and four brothers. She came here at the opening of the term of Burleson as a member of the faculty and teacher of the violin. She was of a lovely Christian character and a consistent member of the Methodist church. She displayed great skill on the violin and was ever ready with her instrument to help any good cause. Those who heard her rendition of "The Holy City" in the First Presbyterian church, with organ accompaniment, a few days ago, will recall with pleasure the splendid effect of her wonderful playing, and again and again as she was then, so one dreamed that she would soon enter that Holy City to live in its joys forevermore. Her beauty of life and character drew all who knew her and although she lived here but a few weeks many hearts are sad to-day because of her untimely death.

Her brother Will Davis was expected here on the Flyer last night but missed connection and failed to arrive, and will reach here on the early train this morning.

Services will be held at the residence of Prof. Gibson at 5 o'clock this morning conducted by Rev. R. L. Pendergast, and all friends are invited to attend. The body will be taken on the northbound Flyer this morning to her home at Denick, Mo., where it will be laid to rest until the Resurrection Morn.

Two sympathy of a multitude of friends took out to the bereaved mother and family in their grief at the loss of their loved one.
